On Air calls for candidates – Begin March 1, 2014

Candidate Debates: Ask past candidates for recommendations

Candidate Debates: Look into having reporters ask candidates questions during morning call-in shows. Candidate shows would replace talk shows for one week.

Candidate Questions: Possibly related to the challenges KBOO will be facing next year

Candidate Requirements and applications posted on the website

election@kboo.org needs to access current board members

Ballots: Can we send out e-ballots like BTA?

Ballots: Will identify whether candidates were removed or quit the board. Need legal opinion?

Ballots: Will identify whether candidates attended board and committee meetings.

Comments from Candidates

Meet and Greet may not bring in many members but it provides an opportunity for members and this alone is reason to have one.

Open up the on-air "debates" for call-ins. This would allow listeners more access to the candidates.

Have an informational meeting for people interested in running for the board. We used to do this when I was on the nominating committee, and they seemed helpful.

Have a retreat at the beginning of the board year to train new board members about how the BOD works and its relationship with the membership and staff.

Give the candidates enough time to speak.
